HEAD COACH JESSICA BRASWELL

Jessica Braswell is in her second season as the head coach of Auburn equestrian and her 14th overall with the program. Prior to 2023-24, Braswell spent 12 years overseeing the jumping seat discipline.

In her first year as head coach, Braswell guided the Tigers to their sixth-straight Southeastern Conference title and saw seven student-athletes total eight All-American honors. In addition, Ava Stearns secured NCEA Flat Rider of the Year, while Isabella Tesmer was named SEC Reining Rider of the Year and Sophee Steckbeck took SEC Fences Rider of the Year.

In addition, Braswell was named SEC Co-Head Coach of the Year for her team's performance in 2023-24.

Away from competition, Auburn also exceled in the classroom. The team totaled 10 NCEA All-Academic honors and 22 NCEA Academic Honor Roll awards. In addition, 37 student-athletes earned SEC Academic Honor Roll or SEC First-Year Academic Honor Roll honors.

Prior to her role as head of the program, Braswell had a lot of success as the jumping seat coach for 12 years.

While in that position, Braswell coached five NCEA Riders of the Year – McKayla Langmeier (Fences – 2019 & 2020); Taylor St. Jacques (Flat – 2019 & 2020; Fences – 2021); Ava Stearns (Flat – 2022), nine SEC Riders of the Year – Elizabeth Benson (Flat – 2016, Fences – 2015); Caitlin Boyle (Fences – 2019); Ellie Ferrigno (Fences – 2023); Hayley Iannotti (Flat – 2018); Emma Kurtz (Fences – 2022); McKayla Langmeier (Fences – 2020); Taylor St. Jacques (Flat – 2019, 2020, 2021; Fences – 2021) and seven SEC Freshman Riders of the Year – Sophee Steckbeck (Flat & Fences – 2022); Ellie Ferrigno (Flat – 2021); Ava Stearns (Flat & Fences – 2020); McKayla Langmeier (Flat & Fences – 2019); Taylor St. Jacques (Flat & Fences – 2018); Caitlin Boyle (Flat & Fences – 2016); Elizabeth Benson (Fences – 2013).

Under her guidance, the jumping seat program has totaled 61 All-America and 60 All-SEC recognitions.

In 2022-23, Braswell was named the NCEA Jumping Seat Coach of the Year after another successful season with the equestrian program.

Ferrigno was named the SEC Fences Rider of the Year under Braswell's guidance. Kurtz and Ferrigno were both placed of the Fences and Flat All-SEC teams. Stearns earned spots on the NCEA All-Championship Teams for Fences and Flat, while Steckbeck was on the Fences team.

As a whole, Auburn finished the season with a 15-3 overall record and a 5-1 mark in Southeastern Conference action. The Tigers captured their fifth-straight SEC title and reached the NCEA Championship match, finishing as national runner-up.

Braswell helped to program win it's fourth-straight SEC crown in 2021-22 as the team went 10-4 overall on the year. Stearns, Kurtz and Ferrigno earned All-America and All-SEC in both Fences & Flat, while Helen Ulrich was All-America on Flat. Stearns was voted NCEA Flat Rider of the Year, while Kurtz was honored as SEC Fences Rider of the Year.

In 2021, Braswell guided the Tigers to an 8-1 mark, including a 6-0 regular season record. The squad picked up its third straight SEC title and St. Jacques earned both the SEC Fences & Flat Rider of the Year honors.

In addition, all five competition riders in Fences were named All-Americans, while St. Jacques and Langmeier earned national honors in Flat.

The 2020 season had the Tigers go undefeated as a team once again, finishing 13-0 on the shortened year. The Flat and Fences corps finished ranked No. 1 at the end of the season and the crew finished with seven All-America honors and 10 All-SEC recognitions.

In addition, Auburn swept both NCEA and SEC Riders of the Year awards in Jumping Seat action as well the SEC Freshman Rider of the Year awards.

Auburn took home another NCEA national crown in 2019, finishing the year with a perfect 18-0 record. Under Braswell's direction, the Tigers took home the Hunt Seat and Equitation on the Flat national titles. All six Hunt Seat competitors – Ashton Alexander, Boyle, Iannotti, Emma Kurtz, Langmeier, St. Jacques – were NCEA All-Americans in both Flat and Fences.

In 2018, the Tigers captured the 2018 NCEA National title as well as the Hunt Seat and Equitation Over Fences crown. Boyle (Fences) and St. Jacques (Flat) were named the Most Outstanding Performer of the Championship and Alexander and Iannotti joined them on the NCEA Championship team.

For her efforts, Braswell was named the NCEA Coach of the Year in 2018.

The Tigers captured the 2016 NCEA National title and the program's first Southeastern Conference crown. In addition, she helped lead the Tigers to the overall national title and the Hunt Seat National title in 2013.

Braswell graduated from Auburn in 2009 with a double major in Agricultural Business & Economics and Spanish International Trade. She decided to remain at Auburn and pursue a graduate degree in which she graduated in December 2010 with a Master of Business Administration.

While at Auburn, Braswell was a member of the equestrian team from 2005-2009. She helped lead the team to an overall national championship in 2006 and a hunt seat national championship in 2008. She was a four-time member of the SEC academic honor roll and the 2009 Auburn Female Scholar Athlete of the Year. She continued to be a part of the equestrian program during graduate school as the first Equestrian Director of Operations.

Braswell began riding at an early age and competed extensively before coming to Auburn in 2005. Prior to coaching at Auburn, Braswell worked for CIGNA Health Care in Hartford, Conn. She worked in CIGNA's Proposal Management Department as a strategist.

Braswell is daughter of Jamey and Amy Braswell and sister to Troy.

ASSOCIATE HEAD COACH MARY MENEELY

Mary Meneely returned to the Auburn equestrian coaching staff in May 2024 as associate head coach, serving as Western coach for the Tigers.

Meneely was on the Auburn staff for seven seasons from 2015-16 through 2021-22. While at Auburn, she helped the Tigers win three national titles (2016, 2018, 2019) and five Southeastern Conference championships (2016, 2019, 2020, 2021, 2022).

Meneely coached her student-athletes to 31 NCEA All-America honors. She guided Searles to two NCEA Horsemanship Rider of the Year honors (2019, 2022) as well as Deanna Green to the same award in 2020.

At the conference level, Meneely coached her riders to eight SEC Rider of the Year honors – five in Horsemanship and three in Reining. Her student-athletes totaled 15 All-SEC recognitions in Horsemanship and 11 in Reining and she had eight SEC Freshman Riders of the Year during her time on the Plains.

In addition, Meneely was a part of the Auburn staff that led the team to two undefeated seasons – 2018-19 and 2019-20.

During her two years away from the Plains, Meneely ran Coach Mary Meneely Consulting. The program provided mentoring and expert guidance to youth riders looking to compete in college by delivering top-tier coaching, clinics and lessons.

Prior to her first stint with Auburn, she was a member of the Georgia equestrian coaching staff. She was first named assistant coach in 2010 and was promoted to associate head coach in March 2013. With the Bulldogs, she helped the program win two national championships and three reserve national championships.

ASSISTANT COACH EMMA KURTZ

After a successful career as a student-athlete with the Auburn equestrian team, Emma Kurtz joined the staff as an assistant coach in May 2023.

Kurtz serves as Jumping Seat coach for the Tigers and kicked off her coaching career with a great season in 2023-24.

As part of the staff, she helped the Tigers win their sixth-straight SEC title in 2024.

She coached Ava Stearns to the NCEA Flat Rider of the Year and Sophee Steckbeck to the SEC Fences Rider of the Year. Avery Glynn was named the SEC Freshman Flat Rider of the Year.

The Tigers garnered four All-America honors in 2024 under Kurtz's guidance and finished with six All-SEC and SEC All-Freshman recognitions.

A member of the team from 2018-23, Kurtz was a part of many major moments for the Tigers. She played a big role in Auburn's first of two undefeated seasons as a freshman in 2019 and helped the team win its second-straight national title. In addition, Auburn won both Jumping Seat and Flat national crowns that season.

Kurtz was also a part of Auburn's five-straight Southeastern Conference championships (2019, 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023).

Individually, Kurtz finished her time as a student-athlete with eight All-America honors. That total is the most by any Tiger in program history. In addition, she is a six-time All-SEC honoree. She was named the 2022 SEC Fences Rider of the Year and concluded her career tied for first in program history with 57 career wins in Fences. Her 48 career wins in Flat is tied for second most.

Kurtz earned her degree in finance in May 2022 and finished her Master of Business Administration in December 2023.

After a successful 28 seasons at the helm, and 22 as a varsity sport, Williams stepped down as head coach and moved into his new role as head coach emeritus in May of 2023.

The Paragould, Ark., native orchestrated the building of the Auburn University Equestrian Center since the university's club program debuted in 1996 and helped to change the club program to Auburn's 21st varsity sport.

Williams has worked tirelessly to push the growth of the sport throughout his time on the Plains. Not only has he produced one of the most successful programs in the country, Williams has also been instrumental in the addition of more varsity programs to the National Collegiate Equestrian Association (NCEA) as well as creating a competitive format that maximizes opportunities for all student-athletes, which is used to this day in competition. For his efforts, he was a part of the inaugural NCEA Hall of Fame class that was inducted in April 2024.

As the head of the program, Williams finished with a 203-65 overall record in varsity competition. He was named the SEC Coach of the Year five times (2019, 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023) and NCEA Coach of the Year twice (2019, 2020).

In over two decades as head coach, the Tigers and Williams totaled six national championships (2006, 2011, 2013, 2016, 2018, 2019), five Jumping Seat national titles (2008, 2011, 2013, 2018, 2019), one Western title (2018), six Southeastern Conference championships (2016, 2019, 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023) and three Southern Equestrian crowns (2004, 2011, 2011).

Williams' student-athletes combined for 122 All-America accolades since the 2010-11 season and have totaled 146 All-SEC and Freshman All-SEC selections.

Williams and his staff guided their student-athletes to nine NCEA Rider of the Year honors as well as 43 SEC Rider of the Year accolades.

In addition to excelling in competition, Williams' teams also produced in the classroom with 106 NCEA All-Academic honorees since the organization began recognizing the honor in the spring of 2013.

Williams graduated from Auburn University with a bachelor's degree in animal sciences in 1986. His career in the horse industry began at a young age as he showed horses and competed in rodeos. His mother also competed, passing on her passion for horses to Williams.

Williams and his wife, Sandi, have two daughters, Toni and Erica. Both daughters are married to Auburn graduates. Williams is a proud grandfather of Graeme Odin Farrell (2017), Cassidy June Patrick (2020) and Conor Orion Farrell (2021).

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS MORGAN DYCK

Morgan Dyck joined the Auburn equestrian staff in July 2018 and serves as the team's Director of Operations. She oversees all travel as well as many daily team needs throughout the week.

Dyck, formerly Morgan McQuay, was a four-year member of the Auburn equestrian program, 2012-13 through 2015-16.

As a student-athlete with the Tigers, she was a part of two National Collegiate Equestrian Association national championship teams - 2013, 2016. She was also a part of the 2016 squad that took home the program's first-ever Southeastern Conference crown.

Academically, Dyck was a four-time SEC Academic Honor Roll honoree. In addition, she earned three-straight NCEA Academic Honor Roll accolades.

While on the team, her work ethic was quickly recognized, and she was known as someone who would go above and beyond for the team. In honor of that work ethic, the team's Work Horse Award was renamed the Morgan McQuay Work Horse Award. She was a four-time recipient of the honor before it was renamed at the end of her career.

She married John Dyck in 2021, and the couple reside in Auburn.

A native of Georgia, Karen Straub Stanton is a 1998 graduate of the University of Georgia where she earned a Bachelor of Science in Exercise and Sport Science and her NATA BOC certification. She went on to earn her Masters of Sports Health Care from what is now known as A.T. Still University (formerly Arizona School of Health Sciences). While in Arizona, she earned the National Strength and Conditioning Association's Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist certification and completed her training as an EMT-Basic. She completed her doctorate in Higher Education Administration from Auburn in May 2019 with her final dissertation, "Financial Management of Medical Care Expenses of Student-Athletes in Institutions of Higher Education".

Following Arizona, she managed an outreach program for high schools and special event programing in the New Orleans area, including teaching a basic course in athletic training at 2 of local high schools. She came to Alabama in 2001 as the Assistant Athletic Trainer for the University of West Alabama, with clinical assignments football, baseball, and softball in conjunction to overseeing other varsity spots and teaching in the education program. She quickly earned the position as Associate Athletic Trainer/ Clinical Coordinator. While at UWA, she was named Alabama Athletic Trainers' Association (ALATA) Collegiate Athletic Trainer of the Year in 2004.

In fall of 2005, she began her position at Auburn University as an Assistant Athletic Trainer with primary responsibility of the football team. Since that time, she has served the student-athletes and the department in the positions of physician extender, volleyball, and, currently, the equestrian team. In 2011, she was distinguished with the ALATA Award of Merit and then again in 2014 for her service to the profession of athletic training and the athletes they advocate for.

Karen recently was selected as the Alabama Athletic Trainers' Association 2020 Hall of Fame inductee.

Karen is married to Nate Stanton. The couple and their three children, Ezra, Kalynn and Noah, reside in Auburn.
